Black pants must be worn for Saturday night concert and Sunday morning worship services. If you wear black jeans, make sure that they are DARK, and long pants, and they are free of tears, holes, or other adornments (jewels, beads, designs, etc.).

Closed toe shoes are preferred for all weekend activities. NOTE: For Black Light Worship Arts – the darker the better and solid (like knit pants). Cotton tends to be seen in black light.

Information for Sunday Worship Services

SUNDAY, September 24, 2023

Please arrive Sunday morning by 8:15 am. Gather in the Sanctuary. Instructions and warmup will begin promptly at 8:30 am. First Worship begins at 9 a.m.

You will wear the same polo and black pants for Sunday worship services that you wore for the Saturday night concert.

The Honor choir and worship arts will participate in both the 9 am and 10:30 am worship services. The format will be exactly the same at both services, but the order will vary from the Saturday night concert.

Parents, chaperones, sponsors, and leaders with honor choir members not participating or helping with a worship art or the choir are asked to sit in the congregation. Should there be a feature at the end, please read the highlighted portion.

If you will sit through the entire first worship experience, then you will have the option to leave after the song portion of the 2nd worship time EXCEPT for those who are participating in the worship arts at the end of the service. If this is an option for you due to the distance you must drive home, then please sit in the back or far edges of the sanctuary so that when you leave it will not distract or be an interruption. Of course if you cannot actually leave the facility but wish to step out, you may wait in the lobby or in the choir room off to the side of the sanctuary and await the end worship feature before leaving.

Once the last worship service has concluded, the weekend is officially over and the Honor Choir members and their families may leave.
